- Family had divorced before i was born
- Swapped between poor mother in amish/ghetto ohio
- Or Rich Suburb Military dad who bounced states on duty.
- Between the 2, I could not form school friends, what was probably 3 years of school, felt only a year before the next swap.
- Father kept me awake to catch up, i fall asleep in class due to lack of sleep, have to catch up more, get kept awake more.
- mother would have me clean up the dog crates she was addicted to at the time. 3 shepards, barely let out properly. always smelled after i was done.
- when i was at fathers, i had a stepmom and half sister.
- when i was at mothers, i had a stepdad and 3 other half siblings
- i have a older sister who i have never met, due to my father.
- i aced anatomy and biology and wood working class, but only cause they were hands on with dissections and muscle memory stuff.
- i dropped out in 10th grade , nils high school, north bloomfield ohio.
- despite all this, my father consistently supports me, unknown reason.
- i am a consistent drain to any bank account, even my fathers and my own, as i ruthlessly spend money on food, but i have nothing else to spend it on so thats a plus.
- im a boring person, i have no interest in gambling, sports, politics, alcohol, drugs, or the gym, my closest addiction, is hunger.

-At 20, i was still with my father, horrid i know. i was 20 at the time, born 2k.

-at the time, father gave me the choice, get a job, or leave.

-NC, is full of old people jobs, construction, or bankrupt business

-so i left to tampa FL

-got a job right away, new to the adulting world, even got scammed of 500 bucks off craigslist.

-after a few months of somehow making it without an apartment, i dont really remember how i did it, my mother contacted me

-by this point me and father had some back and forth witty banter as any suddenly free son would

-naive back then, i leap into my mothers arms hoping shes changed her ways

-she didnt.

-she was no longer in amish country, no longer looked after my siblings, no longer even had the 3 dogs.

-she was in the ghetto slums in a section 8

-i was stuck there with no job for 3 years, as all was around me was factory work.

-i lived off whatever she provided while her twin, my aunt, moved in, half provided and helped, and eventually moved out.

-Across those 3 years, she kept losing utilitys and power, had things shut off, the list goes on.

-she wasnt home 90% of the time, always with her drug dealer boyfriend, evident by a stash in her room drawer

-did i forget to mention ive had seizures triggered by extreme sunlight since 7? anyways, i had another one of those for like the 11th time in my life, dunno, lost count.

-it was in the bathroom and the only reason i was relatively safe was cause the aunt was there to hear me fall.

-its also the reason i cant drive or obtain a license.

-back to topic, sorry im recalling as i type.

-i eventually just get the bright idea to grab most my stuff, and leave, right when her place got shut down.

-discover i was right near akron ohio

-learn the land, its about fall at that moment, things about to accelerate btw, no more multiyear timeskips, this is like 2024 hell if i know

-i stay at a few shelters to pass time and learn stuff, get a few jobs, escape akron down to fairlawn.

-i end up working at panera, in fairlawn, over the 2024 to 2025 winter even got an apartment.

-But panera is a losing business, i was in the floater role cause i was doing everything as the new guy

-they cut my hours, couldnt afford my 600 a month apartment, and it was end of winter but still snowing.

-so i had to quit and leave the apartment selling my stuff getting aid from father ended up shelter skipping between winter to summer to another job at penn station.

-left that place cause he only had me on lunch rush, went to kinsman ohio, camped out there and got a job at the applebees, btw the walk in has hella mold. anyways i was fired cause boss ego tripped over a missed puddle under the wetfloor sign that i missed when i was mopping cause yknow how your in flow state and i was making floor wet and saw floor under wet floor state was wet and dots connect so didnt mop, boss apparently didnt like the fact i thought i cleaned it.

-anyways left there, back down to shelter a 3rd final time

-left shelter after bike was stolen, went to freedom ohio, got a job at dominoes, were nearing 2025 winter btw

-i work hella hard, make sure no one realizes im hella camping hardcore and working , keep up with hygiene and shit but as cold temps go on

-im like "this sweat on the bike is startin to have adverse effects"

-november 2025, degrees start getting 0 below.

-Im in full fleece gear , biking an hour to work daily, over hills, in 0 degrees now. the risk starts outweighing the reward.

-on the way back from a truck stop shower, lil bit of snow in my face triggers yet another seizure.

-wake up in a ditch with people around me

-its around this date i call it quits, call up father again, and get a quick flight back home.

-i make sure to collect final pay and tell everyone at work, i was actually a homeless guy trying to make it big

-spend 6 months at fathers recivering physicly, after 5 years of wasted money doing things nontraditionally, no college, no debt, no credit cards, no loans, barely any benefits aside from occasional foodstamps or medicaid here and there.

-between that winter and the 6 months is when i began drafting the big idea, plus a bunch more business ventures and obscure theorys.

-father kinda nudges again, get a job or leave, NC even more unforgiving as more construction is around.

-learn a few pointers from old man, and leave, to vegas. plan to make it big.

-2 months in vegas, month 1 got a job but burned 1k between me and father like usual just staying afloat

-month 2, got a job at panera, thats a huge can of drama.

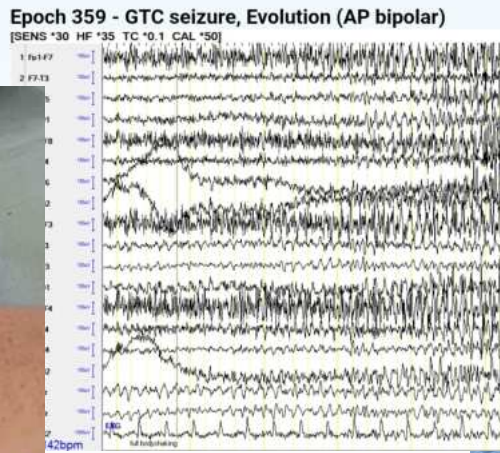

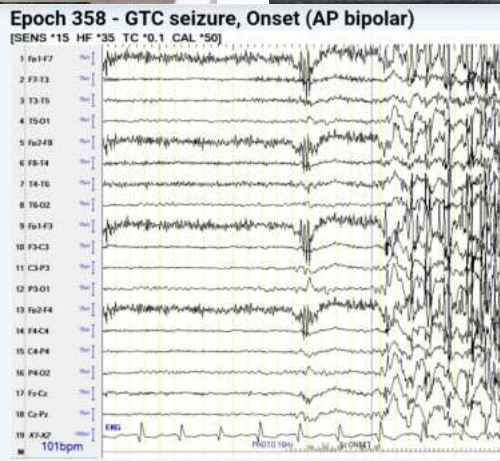

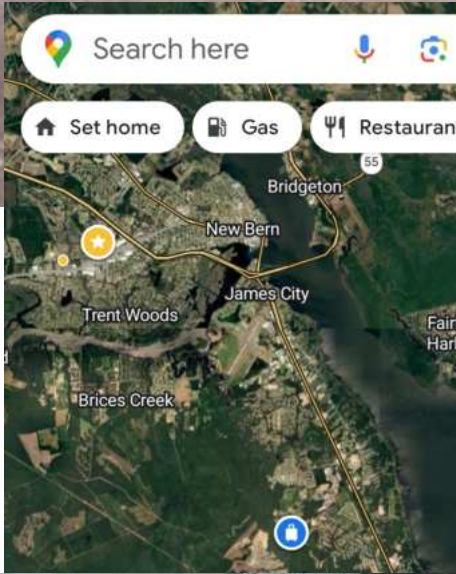

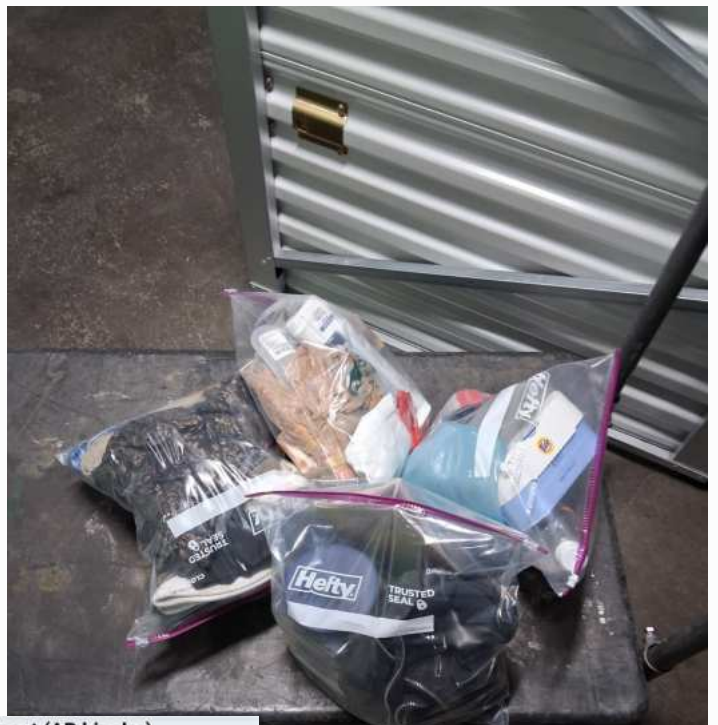

- Vegas is unforgiving, but panera bread, man.
- manager calls me slow, im holding line together.
- next day i feel sumn wrong with knee, get it checked, doc says knee effusion, says slow down
- i speedwalk daily
- manager cuts hours to 10 every 2 weeks, then calls for help, i answer sarcasticly about the cut hours.
- show up next day to hand doctors note which covers the day im supposed to work, manager not happy says hell send it to hr doesnt even glance at the note or ask.
- very obvious his intentions are to shaft me
- i screenshot all the schedule and info i can, start making evidence for a medical retaliation case.
- day later when im asleep on a sidewalk, hooligans snatch my phone which not only has the case evidence , but tons of the drafts for my ideas and more.
- go through a solid day of hell walking around vegas to contact father to get some quick cash, scramble and get a new phone
- cant locate old phone cause old phone is apparently dead, dumbasses. still send a singal to lock and wipe it
- still grieve over lost data and certain info.
- move on , discuss leaving vegas with father, leave vegas before october.

-Leave vegas a few days later, bus to cali, san diego isnt too bad
-extreme disparity between vegas poverty and diego poverty.
-1 week goes by, and i replicate the ideas as final drafts.
-survive homelessness all the while -no medicaid, no foodstamps, 1 month on anti seizure meds, barely able to hand wash laundry and barely able to self bath in a hidden wooded area.
-sleep isnt too bad in the dirt.
-better than worrying about theft and sickness in a shelter.
-doctors at every checkup, say my vitals are fine, no matter what i say.
-i have never went below 150 pounds, and never above 160 pounds across 5 years.
-i speedwalk daily
-i can leg press 250pounds
-but my arms can only lift 30 pounds each, my chest can only press 70, and my upper body can only lift 170.
-the doctors dont see it, but 5 years of constant back and forth between shelter and no shelter, always binge eating, burning my budget on food or shelter or clothing for winter.
-it has cannibalized my upper torso by mass, and delivered that mass to my legs.
-----Now i post this all on release. as were all up to date.
